

Table of Contents

I. This study's topic and themes in current discussion of Exodus and of biblical theology	11
1 Review of studies relevant to the sabbath frame	12
2 This study's goals	18
3 This study's methodology	18
4 The significance of this study	26
II. Exegesis of the sabbath frame	28
1 The literary context of the sabbath frame	29
1.1 The relation of Exodus 32–34 to Exodus 25–31; 35–40 .	32
1.2 Themes of Exodus 25–40	32
2 Exegesis of the sabbath frame (Exod 31:12–17)	43
2.1 The sabbath	44
2.2 The meaning of šabbāt šabbātôn	47
2.3 Sign and/or covenant?	51
2.4 Seventh-day of creation motive	56
3 Exegesis of the sabbath frame (Exod 35:1–3)	58
4 Summary and conclusions	60
III. Hermeneutical and theological reflections on the sabbath frame .	61
1 Yahweh as the sanctifier of Israel	62
1.1 Pentateuchal holiness prior to Sinai	63
1.2 Divine rest elsewhere in the ANE	74
1.3 The Garden of Eden	79
1.4 Subsequent instances of holiness prior to Sinai ...	86
2 Holiness at Sinai (Exod 19–Num 10)	88
2.1 Exegesis of Exodus 19:4–6	89
2.2 Exegesis of Exodus 19:8c–15	93
2.3 The relation of Exodus 19 to Exodus 24	94
2.4 This study's findings vis-à-vis diachronic conclusions	94
2.5 The meaning of Exod 31:13	96

3	The rationale for the sabbath as the sign of the Sinai covenant	98
3.1	Rest, sanctification and the sabbath after Exodus	99
3.2	Rest, sanctification, and the sabbath at Sinai	100
3.3	Conclusions	101
IV.	Exegesis of Exodus 32–34 with an emphasis on divine presence	103
1	Introduction and context	103
1.1	The rationale for the calf (32:1–6)	104
1.2	God threatens to annihilate Israel but relents (32:7–14)	106
1.3	Moses punishes Israel (32:15–20)	107
1.4	Capital punishment of some offenders (32:21–29)	108
1.5	Plague and divine absence (Exod 32:30–35)	111
2	Exegesis of divine presence passages	112
2.1	The angel replaces Yahweh and Israel repents (33:1–6)	113
2.2	The tent of meeting (33:7–11)	116
2.3	Progressive restoration of presence (33:12–17)	120
2.4	The culminating theophany (33:18–34:8)	123
2.5	Request for Yahweh to fully restore covenant (34:9)	125
2.6	Covenant renewal (34:10–28)	126
2.7	Divine presence via Moses’ shining face (34:29–35)	128
3	Summary and conclusions	130
V.	Hermeneutics, theology, and divine presence in Exodus 32–34	132
1	Divine presence and forgiveness in Exodus 32–34	132
1.1	Intercession, non-cultic forgiveness and presence	133
1.2	Summary of the dynamics of forgiveness in Exodus 32–34	137
1.3	The relation of forgiveness to sanctification	138
2	Tabernacle and sabbath	149
2.1	The interrelation of sabbath and tabernacle in Exodus	149
3	Summary and conclusions	145
VI.	This study’s themes in subsequent Jewish and Christian literature	146
1	Creation, temple and sabbath in Isaiah 65–66	146
1.1	Full forgiveness and holiness	148
1.2	Full divine presence	149
1.3	The revelation of God’s rest	150

2	Sabbath and rest in non-canonical Jewish Second Temple literature	151
2.1	Jubilees	152
2.2	The Damascus Document	154
2.3	Philo	155
2.4	The relevance of non-canonical literature for this study	157
3	Rest, tabernacle, and forgiveness perfected in Hebrews	158
3.1	Sacred space, the tabernacle and forgiveness in Hebrews	158
3.2	Sacred space, sacred time and rest in Hebrews	161
3.3	Sacred space and sacred time as rest in Hebrews	164
4	Is the creation-tabernacle-sabbath link absent from the Hebrew writing prophets?	165
4.1	Relevant characteristics of the writing prophets	166
4.2	Covenant consummation in the writing prophets	167
4.3	This study's themes in the writing prophets	173
VII.	Conclusions and contributions to biblical studies	175
1	Summary of the study's findings	175
2	Importance of the study's findings	179
	Bibliography	183
	Index of Ancient Sources	223
	Index of Subjects	229
	Index of Authors	231